Housing

All BridgePathways locations offer housing to international students.

On-campus*

Bridge university partners offer a variety of on-campus living arrangements including double-occupancy dormitories, suites, and apartment-style residences. First-year students are encouraged to live on-campus with their classmates. Living on-campus is a good way to get involved in university activities, meet new people, and to make new friends.

Off-campus

All of our university partners either offer their own off-campus housing or assist international students in securing independent off-campus housing. Living off-campus is usually recommended for older, graduate-level students or for students with spouses and children. Living off-campus usually requires taking public transportation to class.

Host Families

In some cases, Bridge is able to secure host family accommodations. Students attending BridgeEnglish in Denver generally live with host families, as well as younger students who may come to study short-term. Living with a host family can provide extra support, and encourages students to practice their English at all times.

The Bridge Advantage

Direct Entry and Conditional Admission

Degree-seeking students may apply for direct or conditional admission for undergraduate and graduate degrees.

No TOEFL Required

After successful completion of the on-campus Intensive English Program, our university partners will grant graduating students an IELTS/TOEFL waiver.

Scholarships

Most Bridge university partners offer competitive scholarships for international students.

On-campus

Most Bridge university partners offer on-campus ESL courses for degree-seeking students. You can quickly immerse yourself in campus life and have a seamless transition to your degree program.
